Cant beat perfection.

Sean joined the industry in 2007 and started with Rothbury in 2022. He uses his great communication and conflict resolution skills to advocate for clients, ensuring they get the best outcome for their claim.

When not in the office, Sean can be found exploring his passion for photography or working on (and driving) one of his two vintage cars. He supports St John and sponsors a local child through the Variety Children's Charity. As well as exploring passions, Sean was once exploring the world as an international flight attendant. He lived in Japan for a year, and still continues to work on his Japanese language skills to date!
