Casey started in the insurance industry in 2017 and joined Rothbury in 2024. She prides herself on her strong work ethic and high level of service. Casey strives to build strong relationship with her clients, ensuring she finds the right, bespoke insurance solution.

Away from the office, Casey can usually be found going to the gym and supporting her kids through various sports games and equestrian competitions. She loves the Queenstown region as it gives her kids the opportunity to grow up in a similar environment as she herself did growing up in Colorado. Casey has a doctorate degree and is also a successful small business owner of 15 plus years with her husband!
