I was going to do it by phone, but meeting Jack in person was great, and his recommendation and research saved us a lot. Impressive!

I have recently needed to talk to Jack and called him outside of hours, and even though he was away preparing to go on a tramp, he returned my call and was extremely helpful. Thanks, Jack.

Jack was very helpful and was able to break my public liability insurance down so that I could gain a full understanding of what I could get, should get, and could afford. I really appreciated his personal service he provided, and, in the end, it was so easy to put in place.

It was professional. Jack spoke with confidence and supplied the quote in a timely manner.

Jack started in the insurance industry in Sydney in 2015 and joined Rothbury in 2023. He has worked with a diverse range of commercial clients across all industry occupations and holds his Level 5 certificate in Financial Planning. Jack is client focused, has a great work ethic and prides himself on his excellent communication skills. He is passionate about helping individuals, families and businesses safeguard their futures through comprehensive insurance solutions.

After work each night, Jack can usually be found strolling along the beach. His weekends are usually packed with mountain biking, bush walks, or being around his friends and family. Jack loves going to "The Little Big Markets" on the weekend, as he enjoys the food, the community coming together, and the music. He used to play rugby and was a prop (although he feels he wouldn't suit this position any more)! A DIY man, Jack can also be found working on his home in the Mount.
