Claims Examples

A painter's van was stolen from outside his home. The van was fully kitted out with tools and stock and with everything stolen, the client couldn't meet his deadline the following day. Rothbury arranged for an immediate emergency payment so the client could stock up on some equipment to continue with his work. The claims payout was over $15,000 for stock and tools alone. Our client also claimed on his automatic benefit under Full Coverage for Loss of Use which covered him to hire another vehicle while his claim was being sorted. Under Full Coverage only one excess applied despite 2 policies being claimed on.

Our client was painting the outside of a residential dwelling and had removed paint drips from the outside of double glazed windows, using a paint scraper. A week later, the home owner noticed scratches on their windows where the paint had been removed. Full Coverage automatically provides cover for Property Being Worked On, which most other policies do not include. Without cover for Property Being Worked On, our client would have been out of pocket for over $25,000.

Our client accidentally spilt some stain at a property they were working at, which caused some permanent staining to the property. Not only did Full Coverage settle the $30,000, but the client's excess was only $250 rather than the usual $500 or more if they were insured elsewhere.
